STUDENT HAS HIS CHOICE;
M.U. OWNS 54 BUILDINGS

Did you ever take time to count the number of buildings it takes to run the University, or did you ever really know even the names of all of them? Here at Columbia are forty-three buildings, not including seven sheds on the University farm, the Gordon Hotel Building, which is rented for the use of the home economics department, or the University High School, which is also rented. At Rolla, are eleven buildings, making a total of fifty-four owned by the University. The largest building of the University is Academic Hall, which cost $260,000, while the smallest is probably the animal house, near the Medical Building, which cost $3,000. These figures do not include the cost of the sheds on the University farm, since most of them came out of the general maintenance fund.

Following are the buildings on the West Campus: Academic Hall, Mechanical Arts, Engineering, Switzer Hall, Parker Memorial Hospital, Medical Building, Elementary School animal house, Laws Observatory, Law Building, Chemistry Building, president's house, Commerce and Geology

Buildings, power house, Lathrop Hall and Benton Hall.

Those buildings on the East Campus include: Agricultural Building, Horticultural Building, Physics Building, Schweitzer Hall, Biology Building, Read Hall, greenhouses, stable on the horticultural grounds, experiment shed, shed for farm machinery.

The farm buildings are: Stock Judging Pavilion, Dairy Building, Veterinary Building, Machinery Building, dean's house, Poultry Building, horse barn, dairy barn, hog barn, slaughter house, power house, hog cholera serum plant, two feeding sheds, bull shed and heifer shed.

Besides these are the Rothwell Gymnasium, Library Building and the engineering shops.

The largest building at Rolla is Norwood Hall, or Engineering Building, which cost $87,000, and the smallest is the training quarters, which cost $1,000. Other buildings are the Rolla Building, Chemical Hall, Mining Building, power plant, Mechanical Hall, ore dressing building, Parker Hall Gymnasium, carpenter shop, director's house.

BORDER TIGERS ARE STRONG

Rulif Martin Says, "Scare" Call To Arms Shows Missourians Speedy.

"I have never been shot nor have I ever killed a Greaser. I have been homesick several times. I have never seen Pancho Villa or Carranza. A few of the senioritas are pretty. Soldiers don't have to eat beans and hard tack every day. A gun is pretty heavy after one carries it twenty or thirty miles. I have never been in the guard house. I am very glad to get back."

So says Rulif M. Martin of the Fourth Missouri regiment, who has just returned to Columbia, on a 30-day furlough. "The soldiers from Columbia are all in good health but after five months of Laredo, where they are encamped they are growing a bit restless. Laredo is about the size of Columbia, but two-thirds of the population is Mexican. Across the river is Nueva Laredo, the Mexican town of about the same size. The men have been put through a pretty rigid drill and a person who saw them at Nevada, Mo., last June would not believe they were the same set of men. Five months of clean out door life and plenty of exercise make pretty fair soldiers. The company from here have had pretty good luck as far as sickness goes, and even though they were called the Silk Stocking boys when they left, I would sooner take my chances with them in a scrap now than with lots of the other units.

"We have seen no actual fighting, but the boys have had the pleasure of lots of scares. At present 'F' company from here is encamped at Zapata, sixty miles from Laredo on the Rio Grande. A call to arms was blown one night and I think the boys were in the trenches, loaded for bear, in about six seconds flat.

"As to when the National Guards will be sent home, I don't know and neither does any one else stationed there. We hear so many rumors which prove false that 'seeing is believing' there. I work in the Quartermaster Corps and we had orders to have our paper up in shape by December first for mustering out. At present most of the boys are 'watching and waiting'."

Martin tells of a baseball league at Laredo last summer in which the Fourth Missouri won the championship. Marcus Bell, a former student of the University, was the captain of the victorious team. Four other members of the team are in Company "F." A football league is now under way, and it is expected that "Chuck" Wilson, a former Tiger star and captain will pilot the Missouri team. Richard Hocker, another former Tiger, is on the team. The Missouri boys are going to play the Texas Militia at Corpus Christi November 20, and the team believes the outcome will be as favorable as the one last Saturday here.

BOYS' AND GIRLS' CLUBS GROW

New Topics of Study Will Be Added to Work Next January.

Work in the Boys' and Girls' Clubs has progressed rapidly since last September. The clubs now number 843, with a total membership of 9,792. These consist of sewing and baking clubs for the girls, and stock and grain judging for boys. Two thousand circulars of instruction have been received and arranged in topics of study. Sewing, garden and canning, corn growing, pig feeding and poultry clubs will be organized in January.

When the work in one line is completed, the member is entitled to a button of achievement. A graduated system of buttons will be used, and a different button will be awarded in each line.

40 VENIREMEN DRAWN

Jury to Try Oscar McDaniel Will Be Selected by End of This Week.

By United Press

ST. JOSEPH, Nov. 16.—The venire from which a jury will be chosen to try Oscar McDaniel, charged with the murder of his wife, was completed shortly before noon today. Attorneys for both sides received until 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning to eliminate twenty-eight of the forty veniremen. The state will have the list first, scratching eight names, and the defense will eliminate the remaining twenty.

Contrary to the usual custom, Judge Ryan issued a statement saying that veniremen could remain at their homes until Saturday, after cautioning them not to discuss the case after they leave the courtroom. A conference was called in Judge Ryan's chamber, at which each side considered the venire list and difficulties among the lawyers were discussed.

"There isn't a chance of McDaniel's conviction," declared Judge C. F. Strop, first counsel for the defense. Arguments between opposing attorneys waxed warm this morning, and for a time it appeared that a personal encounter would be avoided only by stern measures.

WANTS BASKETBALL MATERIAL

Coach J. F. Miller Says More Men Are Needed for Guards.

A call has been issued for more basketball material. The loss of both guards on last year's team has made the organization especially weak on defense. Coach J. F. Miller requested yesterday that all eligible players should come out, so as to develop team work. Guards are needed most, although more men will be out after the football season, those who are not playing football now should not wait until later, he said.

Men who are playing on the first team are: Shirkey, Campbell and Willets, forwards; Williams, center; Church, Shepard and Rohloff, guards. Willets, a star on last year's freshman team, has been showing up well in practice. Campbell is playing a reliable game, and Shirkey appears faster and a much surer shot than he was last year.

With more scrimmage and a better understanding among the guards, the defense should improve steadily. The work so far has been a rudimentary drill in shooting and passing. When more men come out a stronger second team can be picked to develop better team play in the Varsity. Wayne of last year's scrubs has been coming strong this year, and when he has developed better passing he will make a strong bid for a regular position.

CARNEGIE PENSIONS ARE PAID

University Professors and Widows of Professors Receive $687,000.

Three hundred and thirty-one college and university professors and 127 widows of professors were paid pensions amounting to $687,000 during the last year by the Carnegie Foundation, according to the reports read at the annual meeting of the trustees in New York this week.

The report showed the general endowment of the Foundation now to be $12,000,000, the accumulated surplus $1,299,000 and the income for the current year $800,000.

Bedstead Wanted.

The Columbia Charity Organization is in need of a bedstead. Anyone having a bedstead they wish to dispose of is requested to call the organization.

QUAIL HUNTERS ARE BUSY NOW
Those Scouring Woods Around Columbia Say Birds Are Plentiful.

The quail season is open and the hunters are out in the woods in full force. Any afternoon or Saturday morning the woods on all sides of Columbia echo with the reports of gunshots. No large kills have been heard of, but all the hunters say that quail are more plentiful this year than for some time.

Those birds near town have been shot at so much that they are very wild and hard to approach. Bird dogs are being broken in again and will soon be in shape. The dogs at the opening of the season are too anxious and will often flush a covey before the hunter has time to get within range.

Several large kills of ducks were reported Monday. On Sunday the largest flight of ducks yet seen passed over Columbia, flying toward the northeast. Although flying high, they were probably headed for the lakes in the northern part of Missouri.

Prof. and Mrs. J. E. Wrench left last night for St. Louis to attend the state teachers' convention.

COEDS HAVE MORE EXPENSES

Minnesota Statistics Show Average Girl Spends $118 for Clothes.

By United Press

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 16.—Girl students at the University of Minnesota spend more money than male students. This is shown today from figures compiled by the University. These show that girls pay $118 a year for clothing, finery and the like, and only $24 a year for books. Men pay $62 a year for clothes, and $44 for books. Girls pay more for bed and room. But for miscellaneous expenses and recreation, the boys, on the average "goats" for the girls' theater tickets and the like, spend $62 a year while the girls spend $50.

It costs $646 a year to produce a graduated dentist, while a chemist gets by for $369 and an agriculturalist shakes dad down for only an average of $441.

WILL TEACH BIBLE BY MAIL

Local College Now Offers Five Correspondence Courses.

Because of the demand from various parts of the state for correspondence courses, the Bible College now offers five; "The Bible As Literature" for two hours credit, "The Story of Our Bible" for two hours non-credit, "Fundamental Moral and Religious Values" for two hours credit, "The Social Teachings of Jesus" for two hours credit, and "Introduction to Religious Education" for two hours credit. The cost of each course will be $3.50 per hour.

SEEKS POULTRY SHOW INTEREST

Association to Meet Tomorrow Night to Create More Enthusiasm.

The Boone County Poultry Association will hold a public meeting tomorrow night at the courthouse to create interest in the poultry show it is to hold the second week in January. "In all probability," said Hugh Baker president of the association, this morning, "H. L. Kempster of the poultry department of the University and Dr. Virgil Blakemore will address the meeting."

One feature of this year's show will be the exhibit of chickens raised by children. At last year's show forty settings of eggs were given to children with the understanding that they would exhibit at least two chickens each at this year's show.

Samuel B. Johnson of Fairland, Ind., a licensed American Poultry Association judge, will select the winners in all classes and award the premiums. Mr. Johnson has judged shows in seventeen states in the last sixteen years.

The local association has tried to hold its annual show during Farmers' Week at the University.

STUDENTS:

Christmas Holidays Will Soon Be Here.

Have you started to think about the presents you expect to give? What will you give mother, father, brother, sister? Many people consider Holiday Shopping a drudgery. Why? Because they wait until the last minute and start to buy when everything is picked over.

Make Your Christmas Shopping a Pleasure this Year.

Avoid the rush of Holiday Shopping by beginning early. Columbia merchants always have as fine a line of Holiday Goods as can be found anywhere.
